

C-DOC[®]

Cyber Defense Operations Center

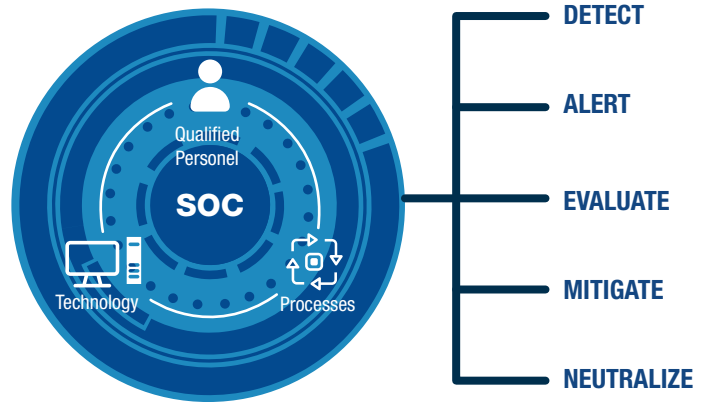

Our operations center for cyber defense is a model of delegated services for military-grade computer security.

C-DOC has been designed with the highest standards of the ICT industry, aligned with the best practices for the digital protection of the sector. Member of First[™].

Our philosophy of maintenance of competences from the persistent cyber training Q-MISSION allows the support of the quality of our specialists for incident response and hunting of digital anomalies.

We have multiple geographically distributed operation sites that guarantee the availability to react to an incident that could affect the stability of organizations and states.
